

Faye's Facts

A WEEKLY PATRIOTIC PRAYER BULLETIN
MERGING PRAYER AND PATRIOTISM

Dear Watchman,

At 3:00AM, I was awakened by the Holy Spirit to write the Faye's Facts. I've had many people ask me if I think Obama will be re-elected. My answer is "yes, unless his true identity is revealed." The Barack Obama put before the American people is an imposter created by David Axelrod, Valerie Jarrett, and the Democrat Party media.

Last year, I only took a few days of vacation, unlike our Congress who took six weeks or more. I feel an urgency to raise up 3,000 American Christians to intercede in prayer for our land and those in authority over us. I am believing God to sign on to 100 TV stations with the Insight broadcast. Calls are coming in from across America from people just now finding the broadcast. It's like a light has been turned on. New prayer warriors are joining our ranks, but my goal is 3,000. We are building a mighty army of God! For those sending in your 2012 pledges please know the Lord sees and hears your prayers. The answers are coming. Praise the Lord! You will reap a reward.

Last year, from April through December we stayed focused on stopping the Dune Lizard being listed as an endangered species and the confiscation of 600,000 acres of oil and mineral rich lands. I'm certain it was that dedication that has postponed the proceedings for six more months. It had been widely proved by the federal government in 2007 the lizard was not endangered. But, when your true motives are bogus law suits to extort federal tax revenues, the facts don't matter. This has been exposed by the Holy Spirit. Those in the Fish and Wildlife Department and the Department of Interior never expected the truth to get out! Too late, it has! It took me countless hours, weeks, and months to get the truth out and expose the environmental racketeering secret. There's no turning back now. We will bind the devourer! You took a stand and let your prayers go up and your voice be heard. The same applies for 2012.

Obama Unmasked

Our strategy for 2012 is to "pray specifically" for Obama's true identity to be exposed. The Lord spoke to me to pray Matthew 10:26; "Do not be afraid of them. There is nothing concealed that will not be disclosed, or hidden that will not be made known." Mark 4:22; For there is nothing hid, which shall not be manifest; neither was anything kept secret, but that it should come abroad. (Abroad meaning disclosed, manifested.)

Our fasting and prayer will be for this verse to go forth toward Obama and his agents of deception and not to return void. He has spent, and is still spending, trillions of borrowed dollars with nothing to show for it. He has celebrated victory upon victory. We hear political pundits saying "Obama is in over his head." Or that "He just doesn't understand economics." Wrong! Obama knows exactly what he is doing. He went to Washington for one thing---implement Black Liberation Theology as our system of government. That's the "change" he's referred to all along. He has been a part of the Black Liberation Theology movement for 20 years before he ever ran for president. His change has come! May God deliver us from wicked rulers!

We must understand exactly how to pray. Our land is in turmoil in many areas. There is an endless list of things to pray for. If we hear God's voice, He will guide us to target our prayers. (Two of the biggest threats are Communism and Islam.) Propaganda is our enemy. With a billion campaign dollars, Obama can brainwash, organize, and use vote fraud to win reelection. He already has several national Christian ministers on his team leading the charge. Without a "truth teller" exposing who he really is, many Americans will continue to be deceived. This is the main reason I want the Insight broadcast on 100 stations—to get the truth out. This is the main reason I want to organize 3,000 intercessors praying for the land. Will you help me "For America's Sake?" If Obama is not taken down by November, he will overtake any opponent. The federal agencies working to shut down domestic energy production, and control our water ways, and phony air pollution claims must be defunded by a new Congress. All racketeering and corruption of federal tax revenues must be revealed.

Salazar Bans Million Acres

ON JANUARY 9TH, PRESIDENT OBAMA MADE ONE MILLION ACRES OF MINING AND GRAZING LANDS IN NORTHERN ARIZONA OFF LIMITS AND NOW PROTECTED BY THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT AS "CONSERVATION LANDS."

Obama Defies Mining Industry

President Obama to introduce 20-year ban of uranium mining on 1m square acres of Grand Canyon, despite political pressure

The Obama administration is set to give protection to one of the world's natural wonders, by banning uranium mining on 1m acres of land around the Grand Canyon. The interior secretary, Ken Salazar, is due to make a formal announcement on Monday of the 20-year ban on new mining claims, at a film screening at the National Geographic Society in Washington. The move, praised by conservation groups, is sure to bring the wrath of the mining industry as well as some Republicans, who argue the ban will cost jobs. The measure does not affect some 3,000 existing mining claims around the canyon, however.

Conservation groups said Barack Obama had shown political courage in going ahead with the ban in the face of that opposition. "Despite significant pressure, the president did not settle for a halfway measure," said Jane Danowitz of the Pew Environment Group. In the final years of the George Bush presidency, when uranium prices were rising worldwide, mining companies filed thousands of new claims in northern Arizona, on lands near the Grand Canyon. They also proposed reopening old mines adjacent to the canyon. Salazar ordered a temporary halt to new claims in 2009, after Obama came to office.

Salazar to Cancel Gas and Oil Leases

One of the first actions the Obama team took when it assumed office in was to direct Secretary of the Interior Salazar to cancel 77 shale oil and gas leases in Utah. The next year they canceled 61 onshore leases in Montana. The Green River shale formation in Utah, Wyoming, and Colorado, has an estimated 800 billion barrels of oil, which is three times the proven reserves of Saudi Arabia. Federal law prohibits drilling for most of these resources. In the Bakken oil shale formation in the Dakotas, there are an estimated 20 billion barrels of oil.

Today, Secretary of the Interior Ken Salazar is scheduled to release a final determination to withdraw 1 million acres around the Grand Canyon from new mining claims for 20 years.

The Center for American Progress' Public Lands Project praised the announcement, noting that it will protect access for all American families to enjoy one of this country's greatest treasures, help provide more recreation and outdoor jobs in the conservation economy, and preserve a crucial water supply for much of the southwest.

The Grand Canyon is one of America's most popular destinations. Almost five million people take part in camping, hiking below the rim, viewing the sights from the window of a lodge, or otherwise taking in the canyon's natural magnificence. By stopping excess uranium mining on 1 million acres, all Americans and future generations will have an opportunity to visit the Grand Canyon in its untarnished state.

Department of Energy's Abuse of Power

Department of Energy Secretary Chu wants $8 per gallon gas and he is almost there. In the North East, heating oil is $4 per gallon and people are, especially the elderly, freezing. Yet, they say Obama must be reelected. Look at Chu's goals:

Rep. Darrell Issa of California, chairman of the House Oversight Committee, has found another target in the Obama administration's policy agenda: energy. Late Monday, Issa released a scathing report accusing the White House of being complicit in driving up oil prices to push a move to alternative energy sources.

Elderly at Risk – Heating Oil at All Time High

Among other things, the report — “Rising Energy Costs: An Intentional Result of Government Action” — accused the administration of restricting access to domestic energy sources, hindering “fracking” technology and hampering the economic recovery by proposing new taxes on the energy industry. The report also says the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) coordinated with environmental groups to target energy producers with environmental concerns. According to the report, the Oversight Committee obtained an email between the EPA Texas regional director and an environmental advocate congratulating each other on progress in creating barriers to energy production from fossil fuels sources. Issa's report sought to highlight Obama's history of pushing for alternative energy sources, noting a quote from the president's 2008 campaign in which he said, “Under my plan of a cap-and-trade system, electricity rates would necessarily skyrocket... Coal-powered plants, you know, natural gas, you name it, whatever the plants were, whatever the industry was, they would have to retrofit their operations. That will cost money.”

Chu Boosts Gas Prices to European Level

Steven Chu, Secretary of the Department of Energy, was not spared in the report, which targeted his past statement, “somehow we have to figure out how to boost the price of gasoline to the levels in Europe.” The 40-page report examines specific policy proposals aimed at supporting things like carbon-based energy reserves at the expense of oil and gas production. It includes the cap-and-trade proposals of the past, active promotion of “clean energy source” and the administration's proposal to tax oil companies to subsidize clean energy technology. In his FY2012 budget proposal, Obama did indeed request that the tax breaks for the oil production industry be repealed, totaling $60 billion over 10 years. The director of the Office of Management and Budget, Jack Lew, defended the repeals by tying them to the goal of producing more electric cars. “In part, we pay for this by eliminating 12 tax breaks that now go to oil, gas and coal companies,” said Lew.

“The most troubling things about outlandish statements made by key Obama administration officials about the need to raise energy costs is that when we examined the evidence, they appear to reflect the agenda they are pursuing,” said Issa in a statement. “These are obviously not the policies Americans want or support.”

Seven Things Revealed to You

Following is an excerpt of a “prayer letter” I received from an intercessor. I would like to pass it on to you as a word of encouragement.

Here are seven things, which we feel are being revealed to you by the word of knowledge: (1) You will become stronger on the spiritual scene by maintaining your focus on the priorities in your life. Put first things first and create order---the proper arrangement of things. (2) This is a time of testing in your faith, which always occurs prior to promotion. (3) God designed you to pursue increase. Focus on what you want to happen and ignore the threats of the devil and of this world. (4) Satan is battling you in an attempt to control your focus. The battleground is your mind. Renew your mind daily through prayer. (5) The Holy Spirit knows your tempter and has anticipated your trial. God will provide you with the answers. (6) The Holy Spirit never makes mistakes, but your enemy will make mistakes. Listen to what God reveals, and you will become victorious. (7) You will experience an unprecedented portion of God's provision once you exit the present season of testing in your life.

Word from the Lord

Now, dear one, receive this prophetic word: My dear child, the weapons I give you will enable you to overcome all that confronts you. Satan dreads your discovery of this. I am with you, therefore, you should not fear, but listen carefully in your spirit, and I will direct you, and I shall make a way for you. Behold, I will not fail you. Rejoice in my word and allow my peace to fill your inner being and comfort you. Accept the assurance that I am with you, for I am the Lord your God. Dear child, pray daily for faith; it is my gift to you. Faith is your only requisite for accomplishment of great deeds. Certainly you must work, and certainly you must pray, but upon faith alone depends the answer to your prayers and your works. Faith comes in response to your prayers, because it is a necessary weapon for dispersion of evil and for overcoming all adverse conditions. Abide in My love and know that it is My will to give you all good things. My love will cure the frets of life. Never lose heart, for I am with you, and all is well, saith the Lord.
